Slow and Advanced Learners

The institution has well-planned multi-level strategies that are implemented from time to time to address the issues of diversity in students' learning levels. Initial cues of the students' learning abilities are obtained from their performance in the qualifying examination, entrance examination immediately after the admission. Since then, the students are trained by the respective faculty members during their course work, catering to their needs and putting conscious effort to remove their difficulties.

The actual stratification of students into slow, average and advanced learners is based on their performance in the I series of internal examinations and a continuous follow-up taken up thereafter till the course completion by the concerted efforts of teaching faculty, course coordinator and Head of the department.

- Special classes are arranged for the slow learners before or beyond the regular class schedule on specific days for each course and individual attention is paid for improving the students' level of learning, problem solving and presentation.
- Simultaneously, the needs of the average, progressive and advanced learners are taken care of by the concerned faculty through assignments, seminars, and more importantly peer-group discussions. Peer group learning is always found to yield good results as all the members are benefited. The advanced learners will derive satisfaction and get motivated for further in depth learning while the slow and progressive, average learners get their doubts clarified with the lucid, hesitance-free academic discussions.
- Slow learners are further assisted through individualized counselling by the faculty of the institution and the regular counselling sessions by the class in charges. Most of the students' problems resolved by these efforts.

Slow learners are given special attention to improve their performance through one or more of the following:

- Slow learners are paired with good performers to enhance their learning abilities (Peer group learning)
- The soft and communication skills are given special emphasis for the students from rural Background to improve these skills and thereby bring them at par with regular learners.
